

Hock End Roast
of Fresh Ham

THE hock end roast of fresh ham corresponds in cut to the shank end of a smoked ham. If you want a somewhat smaller roast, have the dealer cut off the shank for you, and use that part of it to make hot tamale pudding. The larger part may then be roasted according to directions.

Swift & Company