

ICED TEA WITH MINT JELLY.—Pound half a pint of fresh mint leaves measured without pressing down, until the juice flows freely, then boil in one pint of water. Strain and add two table-spoonfuls of gelatine softened in a little cold water. When the gelatine has dissolved strain off the mint leaves and chill the jelly. Prepare iced tea in the usual way and when ready to serve fill each glass half full of crushed ice, add a table-spoonful of the mint jelly and fill up with the iced tea. This makes a most unusual and refreshing drink.
