Unexpected guests at 8:30 P. M. Must give them something! How about a genuinely good drink—one in which the delicious taste lingers long after the clinking glasses are gone? And you'll admit that this drink is no tax on the housewife's skill. You just mix 2 cups of Crushed Hawaiian Pineapple with the pulp and juice of one grapefruit, 2 oranges and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Add a half bottle maraschino cherries, and a half glass melted red currant jelly. Chill and serve in glasses garnished with sprigs of mint.
