

Scalloped Salmon.

1 cup flaked salmon

1 cup cornflakes.

1 cup medium white sauce or any variation.

Use a buttered baking dish and arrange fish and cornflakes in alternate layers, beginning with fish and ending with cornflakes. Pour sauce over. Bake in a moderate oven until the cornflakes are crisp and brown . . . about 15 minutes.

Spanish rice is, of course, browned in butter before cooking, then cooked in just enough water so that it will all absorb. It needs a little finely minced onion and a good-sized piece of green pepper left whole.